ADVANTAGES OF HAVING A HOSTESS

Your boat hostess is an integral part of the boat crew and can make the difference between a good holiday and an amazing one..!

Besides keeping the boat clean inside, preparing your food and clearing after meals she is someone who will do her best to make your vacation more memorable and pleasant. This can include helping you choose the most suitable restaurants for your dinners, advice on places of interest where you stop off (you should not just read out of your guide book).

Whether you are interested in visiting the local sights, exploring the island, buying souvenirs or maybe just having some time on your own you cannot beat local knowledge.

Your hostess is more than aware of the fact that any boat offers a very limited space and she will provide you with enough privacy. She also recognizes when is the best time to start preparing your meals or to go shopping for groceries or take her time off..

The hostess will wash up and put away the dishes after meals and make the salon tidy.

Once a day she will check and clean your showers and heads.

When agreed, the hostess will make your bed in the morning.

The guests can also arrange baby-sitting service if necessary, but this adds to the hostessing fee depending on the number of children and the time spent baby-sitting.

Since sailing is done on boats of different sizes and not always in the best of weather conditions, your skipper might also require some help. When required, the hostess will help the skipper during maneuvers (coming in and out of marinas, dropping anchor, refueling etc) and then finish her other duties. Remember, safety on any boat always comes first.

In addition the hostess has the right to her daily rest and privacy, of course, after her duties are fulfilled.

The boat hostess is not the person ultimately responsible for the safety of everyone on the boat, but is very aware of the significance of her presence on the boat as well as of her share of work.

Just the same, the guests need to recognize the fact that they are also just as responsible for providing normal conditions for the crew which can include providing food as well as good sleeping and hygiene conditions for their skipper and hostess.
